Whyalla's first choice for local news

Whyalla News is a weekly publication serving the residents of Whyalla – the third largest city in South Australia – providing them with the only detailed source of local news and information.

Whyalla has been renowned as a steel city in the past and while BHP maintains a strong presence as a major employer, the city can now justifiably say it has a much broader economic base.

With the expansion of the Westland Shopping Centre to include major retail outlets appealing to a broader section of the community, the Whyalla shopping experience caters for a wide market area.

The city also boasts sophisticated sports and recreational facilities which have been developed to satisfy a variety of interests among the city's young and energetic population.

Whyalla is a mecca for the arts, with the Middleback Arts Centre catering for theatre, cinema and performing arts while Faces of Youth Arts and Whyalla Players provide professional productions throughout the year.
